YOUTHFUL GLOWING SKIN

As the skin ages, it becomes drier and thinner, which leads to sagging.

Collagen, an essential protein that is abundant during youth, begins to decline as early as in our 20s, leaving skin without support from within. That is when sagging occurs, some factors can accelerate the process which include genetics, weight changes, sun damage, wrong usage of skincare. The combination of these factors leads to significant skin laxity over time.

Medical Aesthetics can achieve and improve your appearance and reduce sagging through professional medical equipments and different treatment options.
